Rasel Maraña

Multimedia Graphic Designer/Web Developer

I am an aspiring graphic designer and website developer, I am willing to learn and get better at my craft from the people that I have the opportunity to work with, I am also patient in learning things and very thorough to the things I study, I am also a fast learner because I want to listen for the people who are more experienced than me.

I am willing to accept any offer because I am just starting in the job industry, I want to gain more experience and skills throughout this journey, hopefully you will contact me at my designated details.
